

1. This

7. This quantity becomes larger as the difference between the electronegativities of two bonded atoms becomes larger. For 10 points:

[10] Name this quantity, measured in debyes, that can be found by multiplying the magnitude of a charge by the distance between the charges.

ANSWER:

Evidence for this substance is found in the flat rotation curves of spiral galaxies. For ten points each:
[